100% OFF THE GRID
SINCE 1991

Life in the Bush isn't easy. We know—all of our staff have lived off the grid for over 20 years each.

When the cost of transporting fuel to a remote location exceeds the cost of the fuel itself, it's time to reduce the use of noisy, expensive and high-maintenance generators and make your own energy from sun, wind and water on site instead. Remote medical clinics, schools, community centers and scientific research outposts worldwide rely on renewable energy systems for life-critical missions. At isolated fishing, hunting and eco-tourism lodges, small, inexpensive and portable power centers can save much time, money and hassle, power up essential systems such as radios, satphones and GPS, and keep your guests happy with electric lights, wireless satellite internet and other amenities.

Generator backup will always remain the bottom line in remote areas, but even during inclement weather a small, portable and inexpensive renewable energy system can at least allow you to offset generator run time to the hours when your guests are out and active, so they only hear peace and quiet when they return to camp to relax.

We've been there, done that and can help you make it work with solar, wind and water, no matter how remote your location or how life-critical your mission.

ACCREDITED TRAINING WORKSHOPS

We're always looking for interesting off-grid locations to hold our workshops. We can train your staff, and our classes draw students from all over the world. Contact us for more information!
